

INTERWEAVING PATHS

Encountering Indigenous Theologies and Memories

Saturday 26 July 2025
10.00am – 4.30pm

A day workshop with Memoria Indigena and other indigenous theologians exploring the richness of interwoven theological journeys of faith.

Oxford Centre for Mission Studies,
St Philip and St James Church,
Woodstock Road, Oxford, OX2 6HR

ADMISSION
AND LUNCH:
£20 (waged)
£15 (unwaged)

CHURCH
MISSION SOCIETY

INTERWEAVING PATHS

Encountering Indigenous Theologies and Memories

Saturday 26 July 2025
10.00am – 4.30pm

Come join us at the Oxford Centre for Mission Studies for a thought-provoking event where we delve into the rich tapestry of indigenous theologies and memories. Learn about diverse perspectives, engage in meaningful discussions and explore the intersections of faith and culture. This in-person event promises to be an enlightening experience that will broaden your understanding and appreciation of indigenous worldviews. Don't miss out on this unique opportunity to connect with indigenous traditions and narratives.

Contributors:

Contributors from South and Central America, Palestine, Europe and elsewhere including: Jocabad Solano, Drew Jennings-Grisham, Yaneth Solano, Ismael Conchacala, Shadia Qubti, Bishop Joel Millanguir, Mirna Paulo and more.

This event is sponsored by:

Memoria Indigena, Church Mission Society and Oxford Centre for Mission Studies.

ADMISSION AND LUNCH:
£20 (waged)
£15 (unwaged)

For more info and registration scan the QR code or visit:

Interweaving.eventbrite.co.uk

